Examples on established cooperation

- Association for IT businesses – conference and basic data prize
- DAFAGO – Forum established among private companies
- Operational and strategic coordination with key user such as e-nettet, KL, Geoforum, ATP and others

DAFAGO – a strategic collaboration partner that enables the building of a private basic data ecosystem

The agency has decided that DAFAGO is a strategic collaboration partner because it offers us:

- An effective dialogue with a wide spread community of businesses
- Constructive and consolidated feedback for the further development of the basic data domain
- A private community with private companies as ambassadors for the use of basic data in business development
- A professional counterpart for our strategic efforts to establish partnerships and build ecosystems

Thank you for listening
